

PORT CLEMENTS EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS FOR PETS.

Animals, like every other member of your family, deserve the protection and security of emergency preparation.

A comprehensive emergency plan includes planning care for your pets before, during and after an emergency. The Port Clements Emergency Committee has provided the following guide to care for pets during an emergency.

BEFORE AN EMERGENCY

- If you must evacuate your home, it's always best to take your pets. Pets are vulnerable when an emergency occurs.
- Keep your pet's shots current and know where the records are. Most kennels require proof of current rabies and distemper shots to accept pets. It is a good idea to keep these papers with the other documents you would carry if you need to evacuate (see emergency supply kit below).
- Have an emergency supply kit ready that includes:
  - A three-day supply of food and drinking water, as well as bowls, cat litter and a container to be used as a litter box.
  - Current photos and descriptions of pets.
  - Up-to-date identification, including an additional tag with the phone number of someone out of the evacuation area in the event the pet becomes lost.
  - Medications, medical records and a first aid kit stored in a waterproof container.
  - Sturdy leashes, harnesses, and carriers to transport pets safely as well as blankets or towels for bedding and warmth. Carriers should be large enough to comfortably house your pet for several hours or even days.
- Contact motels and hotels in communities outside of your area to find out if they will accept pets in an emergency.
- If you have made plans to evacuate to the home of a friend or family, ask if you can bring your pets. It is also a good idea to ask your veterinarian if he/she will take your pets in an emergency.
- When you are moving your pets, move them in a pet carrier that allows them to stand up and turn around inside. Train your pets to become comfortable with a carrier by putting food or a favorite toy or blanket in the carrier.

DURING AN EMERGENCY

- Bring your pets inside immediately. Animals sometimes sense severe weather changes and might run away to hide.
- Never leave pets outside or tied up during a storm.
- If you must evacuate, take your pets, activate your emergency plan, and bring your emergency supply kit.
- Separate pets for their safety.
- Cover bird cages with cloth.

AFTER AN EMERGENCY

- In the first few days after the event, leash your pets when they go outside and always maintain close contact. Familiar scents and landmarks may be altered and your pet may get confused or lost. Downed power lines are also a hazard for pets.
- The behaviour of your pets may change after an emergency. Normally quiet and friendly pets may become aggressive or defensive. Watch your animals closely.
- During this transition time, you can contact your veterinarian, Dr. Don Richardson 250-557-4468

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS KITS

Some items to include:

- Towel/blanket with your smell on it
- Basic pet first aid kit
- Can opener
- Fresh water and canned food
- Any medication that your pet may need
- Current vaccination records
- Remember to pack poop bags!

Store your Grab n' Go Bag in a pet crate. Check the kit twice a year (an easy way to remember is to do it when you check your smoke alarms bi-annually) to ensure freshness of food, water, and medication, and to restock any supplies you may have "borrowed" from it.

Your pet should be wearing up-to-date identification at all times. This includes adding your cell phone number to your current information. It may also be a good idea to include the phone number of a friend or relative outside your immediate area. If your pet is lost, you'll want to provide a number on the tag that will be answered even if you're out of your home.

Remember, you are ultimately responsible for the well being of your pet in an emergency. Your pet will thank you for it and one day just might save your life in return!
